Persuasive Adviser Program: How to turn red tape into blue ribbon

The average piece of business advice to an executive takes about 8 hours of your and your team's time to prepare and 15 minutes to deliver.

Those 15 minutes simply cannot be wasted.

The Persuasive Adviser Program tackles the challenge internal advisers have with cutting through with their advice. It will give you all you need to make the difference you know you can make, to get invited to provide your advice 5 or 10 times more than you are now so you can create the change that is needed. While it covers so many of the traditional elements of a trusted adviser program such as listening and influencing skills it has so much more.

Here is what you will learn in the program:

- How best to stand in the shoes of your internal client.
- How to paint them a picture to clarify and engage.
- How to use stories to connect and inspire.
- How best to ensure you have so much credibility, they cannot help but follow your advice.

"Fantastic methodology that I can start practicing straight away. Great practical tools that make sense."

Jessica Doyle
Head of Safety, Sydney Opera House

Who Should Attend

All advisers, for example from Risk, Compliance, Audit, Finance, Legal, HR, IT and Marketing.

Presenter

Bryan Whitefield has been working as an adviser internally and externally for 30 years. First as a chemical engineer, then a risk engineer and now as a management consultant. He has worked with hundreds of organisations across the public and private sector and all sectors of industry. So he knows that all advisers and those they advise face the same problem – giving and receiving valuable advice, succinctly and with clarity.
